

LANDSLIDE FOR COL. ROOSEVELT

SECURES MAJORITY OF PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATES.

Republican Organization Leaders Stunned by Overwhelming Defeat of Taft—Wilson May Have Solid Delegation.

Philadelphia, April 14.—The primary election in Pennsylvania resulted in a landslide for Col. Roosevelt. As the returns continue to come in the victory for the Roosevelt adherents becomes more complete.

Of the sixty-four delegates elected in the thirty-two districts fully fifty are pledged to vote for Roosevelt. Added to this is the probability that the Republican state convention will choose twelve delegates at large to the national convention who will be controlled by the anti-Taft element, insuring at least sixty-two delegates for Roosevelt from this state.

The Republican organization leaders are stunned by the overwhelming defeat of the Taft candidates and have nothing to say regarding the result. United States Senator Penrose, the recognized leader of the Republican organization and the leading Taft boomer in this state left the city early in the afternoon and boarded his yacht at Atlantic City, where he is safe from interviewers.

To night the Roosevelt campaign managers are celebrating their victory to the full. They are claiming more than the 62 delegates the returns so far give them.

With the exception of one or two districts in the state Woodrow Wilson will have a solid delegation from Pennsylvania to the Democratic national convention. In this city Taft got seven of the twelve national delegates.

Reuben L. Moon, who has been a leader on the Republican side of congress for several sessions, was decisively defeated for re-nomination. His successful opponent is George Edmonds, Republican-Keystone candidate.

Congressman Michael Donohue, Democrat, accomplished the remarkable feat of being elected the Republican as well as the Democratic and Keystone nominations in the fifth Philadelphia district. This district is largely inhabited by workmen.

Returns received up to 2 o'clock indicate that the Roosevelt delegates in Allegheny county, including Pittsburgh, to the Chicago convention, had been elected with the possible exception of one, State Highway Commissioner Bigelow leading his opponent.

John Balzell appears to have been re-nominated for congress in the thirteenth district by a small margin, but the re-nomination of A. J. Harchfield, in the thirty-second, is in doubt.

COURT TAKES CHARGE

Judge Took Control of Two Cook County Conventions.

Chicago, April 13.—County Judge Owens today took control of the Democratic and Republican county conventions to be held here Monday out of the hands of party leaders. The court appointed Anthony Czarnicki, Republican member of the board of election commissions, to act as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention, and Dr. Howard S. Taylor, Democratic member of the board, to act in a similar capacity at the Republican gathering. As a result of the order, conflagration reigns in the Democratic ranks. The Democratic faction is credited with being behind the move. Roger C. Sullivan, head of the opposing faction, issued a heated statement to-night questioning the right of Judge Owens to enter the order. Tumors were alloted tonight to Democratic conventions may result. Republicans say they are satisfied with the appointment of Dr. Taylor. They say he will be treated courteously.

WILD DAY IN WHEAT MARKET

TEN CENTS A BUSHEL ADVANCE MADE IN PRICES.

Crop Scare Is Worst Since 1907—Crop Reports Indicate Vast Acreage Has Been Lost.

Chicago, April 13.—Ten cents a bushel advance in the price of wheat to day told of the worst scare in the United States since 1907. More than 4 cents of the high rise took place in about as many minutes of bedlam to day on the board of trade. Again and again the price receded, only to jump once more up near the high figures which had started the nerves of even the most hardened players in the pit. The strain continued with but slight cessation until the jangling clang of the close cleared the wrought-up speculators from the floor. One firm, whose liabilities, however, were said not to be important, went to the wall. A leading trader at St. Louis was likewise alleged to have been unable or unwilling to respond to heavy calls for margin, and to have allowed his debt to be closed up under the hammer as provided by the rules made to it just such an emergency.

Excitement which reached a climax to day has been growing since Monday and previous to this morning had put up the market 6 cents of the 10 cents that has now been added to the selling price in Chicago. The basis of it all has been a continuous flood of orders to purchase wheat and these in turn were the result of advice which made it appear that calamity had overtaken, perhaps, a third or more of the entire crop of soft winter wheat planted last autumn. One of the best known experts in the business widely to day from Springfield, Ill., that a further period of growing weather with helpful rains would bring considerable acreage out all right that at present seems worthless. His prediction apparently counted for little though when placed alongside the almost unanimous judgment of farmers and millers who declared that in the majority of cases of that kind the return would not amount to the seed put into the ground to take chances with snow and ice, that this winter had broken the record.

GEN. GRANT'S BODY

Taken to Governor's Island and Placed Under Military Guard.

New York, April 13.—The body of General Frederick D. Grant, late commander of the department of the east, was removed this afternoon from the Hotel Buchanan to Governor's Island, where it was placed under a military guard of honor, in the chapel of St. Cornelius the Confessor. There it will lie until the arrival here from Russia of the Princess Cantacuzene. General Grant's daughter, for whom the funeral services have been delayed. The princess' journey will take at least ten days.

The removal of the body was accompanied by no military display or ceremony, these honors being reserved for the funeral.

WANTED "CROOKED LAWYER"

Search Ends Up by Man Being Placed Under Arrest.

Danville, Ill., April 13.—Registering at a hotel here as Roy Langdon, Chicago, Ill., a well dressed stranger began a search for a "crooked lawyer" who would accept a big commission for acting as go-between in the sale of $60,000 worth of diamonds belonging to a gang of alleged smugglers and held in an express office at Champaign.

After visiting several lawyers and putting "hypothetical" questions to them concerning the case, he finally approached Attorney Grant Johnson, who pretended to fall in with his scheme and appointed a second interview. A policeman was in waiting room when Langdon called again, and after listening to his plans, placed him under arrest.

Langdon's preliminary hearing will be held April 17, on a charge of trying to operate a confidence game. If he turns out to be a member of a smuggling gang, as is alleged, he will be turned over to the federal authorities. He is accompanied by a young and pretty woman, who is registered as his wife and hysterically declares his innocence.

Chicago, April 13.—C. E. Gifford & Co., a grain brokerage firm, today announced that in order to protect their customers they had transferred their trades on the Chicago board of trade to another firm, when it was reported that one of the Gifford bookkeepers had been caught "short" in the rise in the wheat market. The Gifford concern is said to be solvent but to have lost about $10,000, it is alleged by the speculation of the bookkeeper.

BITTER DEBATE HEARD IN HOUSE

MANN AND GRAHAM HAVE SHARP WAR OF WORDS.

Minority Leaders Charge in Indian Affairs Case Caused Colloquy—Fourth Story Will Be Told.

Washington, April 13.—The House today and a very bitter debate was precipitated between the minority leader, Mr. Mann, and Representative Graham, of Illinois, chairman of the interior department expenditures committee, over the case of Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, said to be a lobbyist on Indian affairs.

Mr. Mann said in lieu of an explanation an investigation should be made of the case.

Yesterday on the floor, Mr. Mann had declared that Mrs. Gray, upon the advice of Mr. Graham, had refused to return to an Indian agent a protested fee. Today when Mr. Graham discovered Mr. Mann's remarks in the record, the storm broke. Mr. Mann was not in the chamber when Mr. Graham began a statement in which he branded, in bitter terms, Mr. Mann's declaration as untrue.

Representative Madden of Illinois sought vainly to halt Mr. Graham's remarks because of Mr. Mann's absence. In the height of his protest Mr. Mann entered. Mr. Graham called upon him to produce the proofs of his charge. The minority leader read a number of letters and telegrams bearing on the connection of Mrs. Gray with the committee.

Mr. Graham reiterated that Mrs. Gray was not employed by the committee, and never had drawn a penny of public funds so far as his committee was concerned.

Mr. Mann retorted by reading a letter written recently by Mr. Graham to Secretary Fisher, introducing Mrs. Gray and asking that she be given access to certain files in the general land office for the purpose of gathering information for the committee. Mr. Mann also declared that a certain attorney had appeared before the committee in the Controller Ray case, and although it was denied that he appeared for the committee he had filed a bill for $1,000 and had received $250 on account.

"The attorney in question did not receive one cent from the committee," shouted Mr. Graham, jumping to his feet, "a passing strange," returned Mr. Mann, "but the committee on accounts informs me that it paid out $200 to this attorney for services rendered before the committee. Who is paying these people? Who is paying Mrs. Gray? Who paid this attorney?"

"Is public spirited citizens wish to lend their aid to the government without remuneration," retorted Mr. Graham, "it is nobody's business."

"It is the business of congress," retorted Mr. Mann.

"We ought to know if these attorneys and other employees are paid by the interests appearing before this committee. If my colleague does not know we ought to have an investigation. If he does know he ought to state it frankly to this house."

During the colloquy Representative Baker of California took a seat between Mr. Graham and Mr. Mann, who was immediately across the aisle. His broad shoulders blocked Mr. Graham's egress. Representative Fowler of Illinois, with studied indifference, took up his place immediately in front of Mr. Mann.

A Republican leader, after the clash was over, asserted privately that Mrs. Gray had been re-imposed for her activities by the Democratic congressional committee, and that the truth of their allegation would yet be brought out.

MAKE CLAIMS THAT DIFFER WIDELY

Taft and Roosevelt Managers Issue Statements as to Delegation Which Do Not Agree.

Washington, April 13.—Wide divergence in the claims of pledged delegates and a difference of sixteen between the totals of delegates selected up to date exclusive of Pennsylvania, marked the rival statements issued by the Taft and Roosevelt managers today. Taft headquarters claimed 311 for President Taft and conceded 113 to Col. Roosevelt. The Roosevelt managers claimed 151 and conceded 49 to Taft. In the Roosevelt statement 161 were listed as contested and 106 as unstructured.

The total number of delegates selected up to today, as presented by the Roosevelt managers, is 310, while the Taft records show only 491. In Louisiana, the Taft headquarters claimed six delegates had been chosen, while the Roosevelt managers took credit for a full delegation of eight for the colored. The Taft statement showed a total of 22 delegates selected in Michigan; the Roosevelt statement based on reports from State Chairman Frank Knox, gave the total of selected delegates as 26.

NEW YORK BAR GOES ON RECORD

Is Opposed to Recall of Judges in Judicial Decisions—Will Seek to Check Movement—Forming These Ideas.

Albany, N. Y., April 14.—That there is a growing sentiment in favor of the recall of judges and judicial decisions by popular vote, was the opinion expressed at a special meeting of the New York bar association today, when resolutions were adopted condemning such a system.

A resolution offered by former Justice C. D. Cady Herlick and seconded by Anton B. Parker, former chief justice of the court of appeals, was approved, empowering a committee to investigate the causes of this movement and if necessary recommend a remedy to check it.

The meeting was unanimous in its opposition to recall.

"And this is the east, am I living?" exclaimed the Nebraskaan. "With these two speakers and Roosevelt carrying Pennsylvania, what is coming?"

Before concluding his speech Mr. Bryan stated that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for the presidential nomination. He said that he realized that there were other men who could poll more votes than he and that the only thing that he wanted was an opportunity to work for the nomination of a progressive.

HONOR MEMORY OF JEFFERSON

CELEBRATION IN HONOR OF HIS 100TH BIRTHDAY.

Prominent Democrats Guests of National Democratic Club at Dinner Given in New York—High Tribute Paid Founder of Party.

New York, April 13.—Democrats high in the councils of the party in national and state were guests tonight of the national democratic club, at a dinner given at the Waldorf-Astoria in celebration of the one hundred and sixtieth birthday of Thomas Jefferson. Speakers of the evening included William J. Bryan, Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Governor John A. Dix of New York, Senator James O'Gorman and Mayor William J. Gaynor.

High tribute was paid to the memory of Jefferson, founder of the democratic party, and the speakers asserted that were he alive today, he would advocate the principle for which the present day democratic stands. "What would Jefferson do?" was the subject of Governor Wilson's address, while Mayor Gaynor took as his text "What Would Jefferson Say?"

Col. Bryan was received with much applause when he came into the banquet hall. Both Governor Wilson and Mayor Gaynor were greeted as "our next president."

Thomas F. Donnelly, president of the National Democratic club, read a letter from Speaker Clark, in which he expressed regret at not being able to attend the dinner, and paid high tribute to Jefferson. Mr. Clark especially regretted his enforced absence because he "had hoped to extend a hand of cordial good fellowship to your other guests, whose names, like my own, will be present at Baltimore for the nomination by the democratic party as its candidate for the presidency."

"This is an ambition which any American citizen may worthily cherish, and in aid of which he may thankfully welcome any honorable assistance offered to him without detracting in the slightest degree from the qualities of any other aspirant for the same high honor. It is not for us to pass judgment on our respective merits. That belongs and may be safely left to the delegates selected for that purpose by the vast army of faithful Democrats throughout the union, who constitute the democratic party, and who in due time by their accredited representatives, will, as they only can, speak in its august name."

"To the standard bearer thus chosen and to the platform adopted by that convention all loyal Democrats will rally as one man, forgetting all past differences in support of the standard bearer and the banner confided to him to carry to victory. Such a candidate standing upon such a platform will marshal the victorious hosts to an enduring victory next November."

Pledges to the principle of publicity for the source of campaign contributions to individual candidates were obtained tonight by William Jennings Bryan from Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey and Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York.

Mr. Bryan, the last speaker of the evening, did not conclude until long after midnight a speech in which he expressed amazement at the progressive doctrine such as Governor Wilson and Mayor Gaynor had received, received as it was in the west.

"And this is the east, am I living?" exclaimed the Nebraskaan. "With these two speakers and Roosevelt carrying Pennsylvania, what is coming?"

Before concluding his speech Mr. Bryan stated that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for the presidential nomination. He said that he realized that there were other men who could poll more votes than he and that the only thing that he wanted was an opportunity to work for the nomination of a progressive.

CUMMINS DENOUNCES COURT DECREE

Says Finding in Tobacco Case Was Aid to Perpetuation of Monopoly.

Washington, April 13.—The decree of the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York approving the reorganization of the American Tobacco company was denounced as the interest of the perpetuation of monopoly in a speech by Senator Cummins of Iowa to day. He addressed the senate at length in support of his bill to grant to the independent tobacco companies the right to appeal from that decision to the supreme court. Mr. Cummins took the position that the circuit court had exceeded its authority and that in accepting the decree of the circuit court had rendered immense aid to corporations following the example of the tobacco company. He contended that in the reorganization all the powers of the original company had been vested in three kindred companies and referred to the advance in price of stock to prove that the action of the circuit court had not interfered with the monopoly.

The musical numbers were good and with a commendable entertainment.

GOOD NEWS S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

To every person suffering with an old sore or chronic ulcer, the very best news in this paper is contained in the present article. It is good news because it is true; it tells of a way to get rid of these plague spots which so often sap the strength and vitality, and best of all, this permanent cure is in reach of every one.

It is an absolutely true statement to say that every old sore or chronic ulcer exists solely because of bad blood. Outside contamination or influences may increase the local inflammation, but such things have nothing to do with keeping the place open. It is the infected blood discharging its impurities through a weak spot on the flesh that does this, and the sore will continue, gradually growing worse, until the blood is purified of the exciting cause.

See how nature points to the cause through the symptoms. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that external applications never have any curative effect on the sore, show that deep down in the circulation there is a morbid cause which prevents the place from healing. But more convincing proof that bad blood is responsible for old sores, is furnished by the fact that even removing every visible trace of the ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; the sore always returns.

S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory or infectious matter to irritate the place and nature causes a natural and certain healing of the ulcer. When S. S. S. has cleansed the circulation and the place is well, it is not a surface cure, nor simply a smoothing over of the outward evidence, but it is a perfect and permanent cure, because every vestige of the old cause has been driven out. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, cleansing and invigorating in their nature, and of great tonic value. It is a medicine adapted to persons of any age, and is just as effective with the old as with the young or middle aged. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is greatly strengthened and benefited. To hear of S. S. S. has been good news to thousands, it is good news for you.

If you wish any special advice about an old sore or ulcer write for our free book, and ask our medical department to give you instructions you may feel the need of. No charge for the book or advice. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

THE WAR OF THE REBELLION. Fifty Years Ago.

Captain Alexander Smith was one of the veterans of Morgan county who had a part in the great battle of Shiloh, 50 years ago. At the time Capt. Smith was First Lieutenant in Co. E, of the 7th Illinois, although he was promoted to a captain in that same year. The fighting strength of the regiment at Shiloh was approximately 450 men, as many others were off duty because or wounded at Fort Donelson and many others were off duty because of sickness. Of the 450 men in this regiment, at Shiloh, 199 were killed or wounded. Capt. Smith, in talking of the conflict yesterday mentioned the fact that Shiloh was one of the misunderstood battles of the war. He says that it was an unexpected battle from a Union standpoint, but that it was by no means a surprise. The troops landed at Pittsburg Landing, March 12, although they did not disembark for several days. In the days following even the privates, to say nothing of the officers, were aware of the fact that the Confederates were massing at Corinth and it was a common knowledge that a conflict could not be many days in the future. It was supposed, however, that the battle would take place at Pea Ridge, a point about midway between Pittsburg Landing and Corinth. The latter city was just about 20 miles from Pittsburg Landing.

"At Shiloh," said Capt. Smith, "General Albert Sidney Johnson, a brilliant general of the Confederate army lost his life, and firmly believe that Gen. Johnson fell a willing victim to Union bullets. Gen. Johnson, who was in command of the Confederate troops, and who had planned the attack on the Union forces at Pittsburg Landing had been severely criticised in the South, because of the reverses he met at Donelson. A delegation went to President Jeff Davis, complaining bitterly and said to Davis 'Give us a general and there will be no more such defeats as that sustained at Fort Donelson.' Davis replied: 'Gentlemen, if Johnson is not a general, I do not know one in the Confederacy.' When Gen. Johnson learned of President Davis' statement he wrote the test of a general is success and while it is hard to doubt, it is probably a just test. It must have become evident to Johnson before the fighting of the first day was ended at Shiloh that he could not overwhelm Grant and I firmly believe that he wanted to die on that field of battle, preferring death to criticism from the people of the South. It is a fact that in the course of that battle he sent all his staff officers away on one pretext or another. In the end, he said: 'Men they are stubborn and we must go after them with the bayonet. I myself will lead you' and there he was, the general, who had the plan for the whole battle in his head, riding in the very forefront in a perfect storm of bullets. When one of his staff returned to him with a message it was evident that Johnson had been wounded and the staff officer caught him as he was about to fall. Johnson was carried to a little ravine near by, where he died 15 or 20 minutes later. He was shot in the thigh, where an artery was severed and he simply bled to death. Johnson, himself had a knowledge of surgery and the simple application of a tight bandage would have, in all probability, saved his life. Yet I believe that little or nothing was done to stop that flow of blood."

Another decided opinion that Capt. Smith holds is that fortifications or ambuscades, would have been of no advantage to the Union forces at Shiloh. Such fortifications would have been of necessity far from impregnable and he believes that the rebels in their enthusiasm would have crowded over these and that the green troops of the Union Army would have been terrified and disorganized, far worse by such an onslaught than was the case in the method followed of retreating when necessary and later making a stand.

From Capt. Smith and from other sources the following facts are given relative to the part Illinois had at Shiloh and the part which Capt. Smith's regiment had in the conflict.

The 7th Illinois Infantry was equipped with the 3rd brigade, W. H. L. Wallace's division, near the river between the Corinth road and Snake Creek. The colonel of the regiment, A. J. Babcock, being absent sick, the 7th Infantry followed under Major H. Rowett at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, April 6, and marched with the brigade on the Corinth road to a position on the Eastern Corinth road. The 7th and the 58th Illinois regiments were immediately moved forward to Duncan field, forming on the north side of the road at 9:30 a. m., the 7th being between the 58th on its left and the 8th Illinois Infantry of McClelland's division, on its right.

The regiment was at once in the thick of a fight which raged with hardly a pause until between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. The Confederate batteries opened fire upon the line about 9:30 and the attack of the infantry followed. A reconnaissance in regimental force was made along the enemy's lines toward his right, with sharp skirmishing and it was soon discovered that the enemy, in very large force, was advancing with lines extending far beyond the flanks of the reconnoitering force. It was necessary to fall back at once to avoid being surrounded by the advancing enemy. The Confederates followed closely; a severe engagement ensued between their advance lines and the Union forces, and in spite of the deadly fire poured into them they succeeded in turning the right flank of the 7th and succeeded in cutting off the command from its brigade, but the regiment extricated itself from its perilous position. The Confederates pressed upon the Union forces, throwing out line upon line, and the 7th, now in McClelland's command, having lost brigade and division commanders, retired slowly, fighting every inch of the way. At night the men lay on their arms, or stood on picket or guard duty, all in the drenching rain.

Colonel Sweeney, of the 52d Illinois Infantry, having been seriously wounded on Sunday, Colonel S. F. Baldwin of the 57th Illinois Infantry, took command of the brigade on Monday morning. The regiment was engaged during the day, with severe losses, its commanding officer, Major Rowett, being among the wounded.

In the battle Illinois had 28 regiments of infantry, 10 batteries of artillery and six detachments of cavalry. One of these regiments of infantry was at this time known as the 14th Mo., or Birge's Sharpshooters (armed with deer rifles), but was afterwards credited to the state of Illinois and designated 66th Illinois.

Shiloh was pre-eminently an Illinois battle. Her loss in killed and wounded numbered 3,957, while the total loss in killed and wounded of the entire Union forces on this field was 10,162. Of this total number upwards of 7,800 were killed or wounded on the first day.

But five divisions participated in the first day's battle, and all belonged to the Army of the Tennessee. Of these five divisions four were commanded by Illinois generals. The 1st by Major General McClelland, the 2nd by Major General W. H. L. Wallace, the 4th by Major General S. A. Hurlbut and the 6th by Major General Benj. M. Prentiss. It was in this first day's battle that General W. H. L. Wallace was killed.

The great importance of this battle is a matter of history. It made permanent our advance line through northern Mississippi and western Tennessee, strengthening our hold upon Kentucky, hitherto a border state.

Blue Ribbon and Monarch Brands

In every community there are many people not of the wealthy class, either, who never grudge a few extra pennies in order to get the best. The small difference in price is entirely lost sight of in quality and satisfaction. The difference between a trade built-up on such goods bear the Blue Ribbon and Monarch brands and those having the changing factory labels is very great. Blue Ribbon and Monarch goods, though the very highest in quality, are not high priced and the best is usually the cheapest in the end.

Keeping Down the Cost

Any customers to whom we have introduced Blue Ribbon and Monarch brands of goods have found this out. Dried fruits, canned foods, ketchup, spices, cereals, and everything in bottled and package foods for the table having the Blue Ribbon or Monarch label are the finest money can buy. In comparing prices of Blue Ribbon or Monarch foods with prices for equal quality asked by others remember the only reason for our being a little lower is that our selling expense is lower.

We are operating both a grocery store and a pharmacy under one roof. TWO LINES OF BUSINESS WITH THE EXPENSE OF ONE. So the reason we have for lower prices is obvious.

We take pride in having both our grocery and our pharmacy entirely up to date and sanitary to the highest degree. These things add to the quality of our service and while we are getting new customers every day we are hoping for a visit from YOU, resting on the confidence that one visit here will mean another when you gain acquaintance with our store, our stocks, our service.

The Really Latest Styles— Those Fresh From Paris—

are only in the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book. It can't help being that way—for the Pictorial Review pattern business is the big part of the American Fashion Company, which supplies (as it has for twenty years past), the cloak and suit manufacturers with all their advance models. These manufacturers must have their styles three or four months before the retail selling season opens, so as to get their goods made up, so you will see why Pictorial Review fashions are offered you perhaps even before dry goods stores put the newest models on sale. This is also why Pictorial Review patterns are of all others—you could easily convince yourself, as have thousands of other women, by comparing all the pattern publications. If you do, just notice the numerous Pictorial Review styles for draped skirts, the latest waists, the new cutaway jackets—as against the one or two partially new or "warmed over" models shown by others. This leads us to say

When you select your patterns from the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book you do not run the risk of having your dress out of date as soon as it is made.

Pictorial Review Patterns, Too, Are Superior to All Others. Here are the Reasons

With each Pictorial Review pattern is a patented Construction Guide, showing how to produce a perfectly fitting garment with absolute certainty. There can be no home-made look about a garment made from Pictorial Review patterns; it looks right—fits right and stays right.

In each Pictorial Review pattern is a patented Cutting Guide. This shows how to lay out the pattern correctly—and just as scientifically as an expert cutter could do, so as to use the least possible material. There is absolutely no chance of making mistakes—no chance of cutting two backs or two fronts, no chance of wasting an inch anywhere.

Because of these Guides, there is great economy in using Pictorial Review Patterns. Other pattern makers, who can use no Cutting Guide, realize that you won't lay out the material as carefully as a professional cutter, so they allow an extra half-yard or so of material to compensate for your possible mistakes. You always pay for this extra material when you use other patterns—but with Pictorial Review patterns you save your goods.

These two guides, both FREE, are given only with Pictorial Review patterns.

WANT RAILROAD TO CEMETERIES

CITIZENS Unite in Petition to Business Men's Association to Lead Their Aid.

A number of people of this city have for some time much desired a street railroad to Diamond Grove and Calvary cemeteries. Prominent among these is P. W. Fox, a worthy citizen of Jacksonville, and he has been instrumental in securing signatures to the following addressed to the Business Men's Association:

Text of Letter.
Gentlemen:
You have endorsed the ordinance granting a franchise to the street railway company. So far so good. Now we would like to have you use your influence in securing for the city an extension of the South Main street line of the street railway along Greenwood avenue to Diamond Grove and Calvary cemeteries. We feel very certain that such a movement would be very popular with the people and encourage them to vote for the proposed ordinance which has been endorsed by you. Hundreds of people would use the line and bring in a good revenue to the company and if the association will work for this proposed extension we feel certain their efforts would have great weight with the street railway company.

Gentlemen of the Business Men's Association, please give this your careful consideration.
P. W. Fox.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL

Franks.
Word has been received in the city of the death of John Franks, who passed away at his late home in Springfield, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He was born in Springfield, Jan. 8, 1850, and on May 30, 1873, was married to Kathryn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith of Jacksonville. They were the parents of seven children, who, together with the wife, survive, also two sisters and one brother.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, in charge of Rev. D. G. Carson of the Fourth Presbyterian church, with interment in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Bagent.
The remains of John Bagent, who died Friday evening at Jacksonville State hospital, were sent Saturday afternoon over the Wabash to Griggsville, where interment will be made. Mr. Bagent was 81 years old. He was an old soldier and a retired farmer.

IN WAR DAYS.

Saturday, April 13, 1861, Major Robert Anderson of the U. S. army surrendered Ft. Sumter to the Confederate general, P. G. T. Beauregard, after a siege of about thirty-four hours.

Who that lived then can forget those wild days of excitement and doubt as to the outcome of the fiery times opened by the attack on the fort in Charleston harbor?

Every item of news from the rebellious town and the beleaguered fortress. News came slowly then, for the telegraph service was so deficient and unreliable and we had no daily newspaper here. Even the city dailies of that time furnished very meagre telegraphic reports of any thing. The war made most of the metropolitan sheets and gave added life to such secondary ones as the Springfield State Journal and Register.

I think it was known on Friday, April 12, that "the war" had begun, at any rate news of the surrender came on Saturday or Sunday forenoon. Some news certainly came Saturday.

I remember that that day John G. Vasconcellos and his brother Joaquin were working at our house and they were intensely interested in the news from the front. As I would come up from the square I would go out and tell them "the latest," and they would comment vividly on the situation. Little did they then know, or probably think, that one of them would give his life for his adopted country, and that the other would spend three years or more in its service.

In those days the old First Presbyterian church, which my people then attended, stood where the Journal office now is. I recall as we came out of service that battle Sunday that a boy or two was selling little "Bulletins," announcing the conditions regarding Ft. Sumter and the national situation. These slips of paper were one column wide and about four in length, but "they told the story" of the slaveholders' uprising. It was a sad, portentous day and the older people shook their heads in doubt and sorrow, while the young men roared for an opportunity to defend the insulted banner. And the chance came.

College students, mechanics, clerks, even men of family, they all had their call to glory and many of the unthinking went in the coming years to a soldier's grave.

Among the first to go it is easy to recall Charles H. Adams, John W. King, Thomas W. Smith, William H. Beck, John A. Ballard, Mabrey G. Greenwood, McLean E. Porter and Johnnie, his drummer boy, James Mitchell, Edward McConnell, Edward Adams, William A. Kirby, Henry C. M. Rath and others.

Monday morning's State Journal brought President Lincoln's call for 75,000 men and Yates sounded the call to Illinoisans to support their great leader.

At 9 o'clock that Monday morning the names of 45 men were on the enlistment roll of the Union Guards in Hatfield's hall, where the Elks now meet and 35 names were on the roll of the Hardin Light Guard in Chambers hall, over where Audre & Andre are now. One week later those two companies went to Springfield and to Cairo that night with over a hundred men in each organization. And "Ben" Grierson went with them. The war saw captains, colonels, brigadier generals and a major general out of those "raw recruits," and not without their names "can be writ the wondrous story," "Illinois, Illinois!"

There is a well known picture of Napoleon gazing out to sea at St. Helena and it is not hard to think he is looking back over his wonderful career. So can any true American, now of mature age, look back over the glorious deeds of the "boys in blue" of Grant and Sherman and Thomas and Sheridan of Porter and Farragut and Worden and Winslow.

What glad days came the first ten days of April, 1865, when Richmond was captured and the Star Spangled Banner was still "full high advanced!" And there, then, on that other April 15, of 1865, just four years from the time he had called for the first quota of 75,000 troops, Great Lincoln breathed his last earthly breath, and Stanton said: "Now he belongs to the ages."

From wild rejoicing over the triumph of the National army and the end of the war came that horrible news of the traitorous deed which took the Good President from his people. Enslay Moore.

WOMANS CLUB HELD APRIL MEETING

Dr. P. P. Norbury Made Valuable Address on Individual Responsibility—Breakfast to Be Held in May.

Mrs. J. A. Parsons called the meeting of the Woman's club to order Saturday afternoon and after the minutes were read and approved she called upon Mrs. Cleary to announce the May breakfast. A breakfast is to be served at the May meeting.

Mrs. Rowe's circle of the Grace church is to serve the breakfast in the dining room of Grace church and tickets will be for sale after May 1 at Badger's drug store, Brown's music store and Douglas' grocery, at 35c each. After the breakfast will occur the program and the business meeting and annual election of officers.

Dr. Anna Sharpe made an announcement with regard to the raising of $100,000 general federation endowment. Seven thousand dollars is apportioned to Illinois and to Jacksonville $100.

Miss Frances Oldfield, accompanied by Prof. Munger, most beautifully sang the following group of songs: Love in May by Horatio Parker, Bon Jour Suzon by Delibes, Exstasy by Walter Rummel.

Mrs. Parsons said that as Miss Weller had been appointed city matron by the last two city administrations at the request of the Woman's club she would ask Miss Weller to make a report to the club.

Miss Carrie Dunlap, accompanied by Prof. Kitch upon the piano, gave as a violin number, Humoreske, by Tor Aulin.

Miss Mary W. Price, chairman of the Philanthropy committee, reported of the work done by her committee and of the Red Cross seals sold at Christmas time. That from the sale of these seals $160 had been realized for our local society and that by the first of May the Anti-Tuberculosis society expected to establish a dispensary in our city and to have a visiting nurse for the needy afflicted with tuberculosis.

She then introduced Dr. Norbury, who addressed the club on "Individual Responsibility from the Standpoint of Social Psychology."

The address was one of the most valuable ever delivered before the club, a subject of great interest being handled in a way to forcefully impress its importance.

The club desires as complete a report as possible of Dr. Norbury's address and a synopsis will be printed in a later issue.

NEW PASTOR AT FRANKLIN.

Converted From the Saloon Business Through Preaching of E. E. Violett.

Rev. J. E. Teany, the new pastor of the Christian church at Franklin, at one time was in the saloon business in Litchfield, Ill. It was while Rev. E. E. Violett, a nephew of Blufford Violett, who formerly resided in Jacksonville, was holding a meeting in that city, that Rev. Mr. Teany's little girl was converted.

She went home with the message of Christ and was the means of getting her father saved. Mr. Teany had a partner in business and being unable to make a satisfactory arrangement relative to his liquor, he poured out his share into the gutter, a large crowd of onlookers witnessing the profession.

Mr. Teany went to the university at Canton, where he took a theological course and he has been most successful in the ministry. He has also done considerable temperance work throughout Illinois and adjoining states. His work at Franklin is opening under most favorable auspices.

Dr. Anna Sharpe made an announcement with regard to the raising of $100,000 general federation endowment. Seven thousand dollars is apportioned to Illinois and to Jacksonville $100.

Miss Frances Oldfield, accompanied by Prof. Munger, most beautifully sang the following group of songs: Love in May by Horatio Parker, Bon Jour Suzon by Delibes, Exstasy by Walter Rummel.

Mrs. Parsons said that as Miss Weller had been appointed city matron by the last two city administrations at the request of the Woman's club she would ask Miss Weller to make a report to the club.

Miss Carrie Dunlap, accompanied by Prof. Kitch upon the piano, gave as a violin number, Humoreske, by Tor Aulin.

Miss Mary W. Price, chairman of the Philanthropy committee, reported of the work done by her committee and of the Red Cross seals sold at Christmas time. That from the sale of these seals $160 had been realized for our local society and that by the first of May the Anti-Tuberculosis society expected to establish a dispensary in our city and to have a visiting nurse for the needy afflicted with tuberculosis.

She then introduced Dr. Norbury, who addressed the club on "Individual Responsibility from the Standpoint of Social Psychology."

The address was one of the most valuable ever delivered before the club, a subject of great interest being handled in a way to forcefully impress its importance.

TELLS GREAT TALE ABOUT FISH

H. M. Ticknor Sends F. L. Sharpe a Sample California Story—Jacksonville Man Replies With Figures.

F. L. Sharpe has received from his friend, H. M. Ticknor of Pasadena, Calif., a clipping telling about a marvelous catch of fish made recently by six Japanese. This is the beginning of the fish story season and Mr. Sharpe is such an enthusiast himself that he fully appreciates this yard from California.

Mr. Ticknor is associated with Mr. Carter in practicing law in Pasadena and in the letter to Mr. Sharpe he says that as soon as fishing really gets good he and Mr. Carter are going out and catch a few car loads.

The clipping is quoted below as well as Mr. Sharpe's letter to Mr. Ticknor:

YELL-TAIL IN DAY WITH HOOK AND LINE
Santa Monica, April 7.—All records for the number of fish caught in one day at this beach were broken when 21,750 Yell-tails were caught at the beach what this afternoon by six Japanese fishermen with ordinary hook and line tackle. Three schools of Yell-tail swam to the wharf and remained all day. The Japanese fishermen who made the catch from the boats were exhausted from landing the fish when evening came and their arms were numb.

Mr. Sharpe's Reply.
Mr. Dear Ticknor:
If six Japs catch 21,750 Yell-tail in one day, one Jap would catch 3,625 Yell-tail in one day. And each Yell-tail weighing twenty lbs. would make 725,000 lbs. of fish caught by each Jap in one day, which makes 25,725 lbs. per second for each Jap for ten consecutive hours. If the Los Angeles Examiner can tell me where he has this how big a lie will Ticknor tell after he and Carter go fishing.

Answer: The devil only can make a reasonable guess. But a reasonable supposition would put it on a par with the statement made by the ordinary Californian about the climate of the state.

Yours truly,
F. L. S.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.
To the officers and members of Jacksonville Rebekah lodge, No. 13, I. O. O. F. We, the committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Sister Effie Minter, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas the death angel has summoned to the Grand Lodge above where "Friendship, Love and Truth" reach their perfection, our beloved Sister, Effie Minter, removing from our midst one of our oldest members who has most fully exemplified the beautiful teachings of our order for forty years, and

Whereas she will ever be held in loving remembrance for her zeal and steadfast devotion and loyalty to the cause, which she always so ably and warmly championed, and

Whereas her going will leave a great void in our ranks, reminding us always of her earnestness, affection and reliability at all times.

Resolved that Jacksonville Rebekah Lodge, No. 13, I. O. O. F., extend their sincere sympathy to our bereaved brother and relatives of our departed sister with the comforting assurance that though she can not return to us we can find in her memory all the bright forever, sorrow never can press the soul.

Resolved that the character of our lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this lodge and a copy sent to the bereaved husband.

Mary Davis Kinney,
Pearl Jaeger, Sec.

WILK TALK OF JEWISH PEOPLE.
Amongst the interesting people in the world the Jews occupy a unique place. A race that can maintain its identity for more than eighteen centuries without national life that can persist and be prominent amidst persecution through practically all that time; and that can occupy the position of influence that the Jews occupy today, is worth considering. And especially since they are coming to America by the hundreds of thousands each year.

Not only are they interesting from a racial and national standpoint, but religiously they are a peculiar people. Nothing seems to daunt them; and today they are so well adapted to carry out God's purpose as ever before in their history.

Mr. Darsie will discuss the interesting problem which the Jews present at the 7:30 p. m. service at the Central Christian church Sunday night.

DON'T BE THIN.
No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy should use Samose, the great flesh forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

Cover & Shreve, the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to fund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person to ask for the money back.

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Akers Making Good.

Local fans will be interested in the following items taken from the Sporting Life referring to former

Jacksonville players. Paul Eaton writing in this week's issue says:

On Monday the regulars defeated the Catholic university team, 7-0, the collegians putting up a pretty fielding game. Cashion allowed them no hits in five innings and Akers was touching up by them four times in as many rounds.

Moran Still in South.

The following is from the Chattanooga correspondence, and refers to "Deedle" Moran. It was rumored locally that Moran was playing with Brooklyn this year, but the dope is that he is still in the south:

At the present writing it looks as if the outfield would be Moran, Blitz and Duncan, though Cruise and Grover More, the latter a brother of Forrest More, may push the last two rather hard. There is hardly a chance of either of them beating Roy

Moran. He is going fine this spring, and he was one of the few dependable men of last year's team.

Bush "Big League" Umps.

Garland Bush, the hero of many a hard fought game in the old Kitty league, is now a real "big league"

umps, officiating in the present series between the Giants and Trolley

Dodgers. We are glad to see that he is making good our old time prediction that he had it in him to make one of the best if he could overcome his pugilistic tendencies. He'll overcome 'em all right with Tom Lynch as boss. If he gets away with this series in good shape he is sure to

BLIND COUPLE HAS SUCCEEDED

A. L. Bowen Tells Story of Slightless
Young People Known Here.

A blind couple known to a number of Jacksonville people, who met at a state institution for the blind, were married from it, and have since made progress in life through a laudable ambition, are described in a report of A. L. Bowen, executive secretary of the state charities commission, of a visit he made last fall to the Illinois Industrial Home for the Blind in Chicago.

The story reads as follows:

Richard Hoehler, blind from birth, a student for one year in the Illinois School for Blind at Jacksonville, and for a time an inmate of the Industrial Home for the Blind in Chicago, sat at the piano in the parlors of this institution today and played Mendelssohn's Spring Song with that delicacy of feeling and richness of sentiment that characterize the artist.

"It was the day of the annual bazaar of the blind. All the former inmates of the institution had come to the festivities. Upon the tables in the parlors were spread their handicrafts. There was the lightness and gaiety of happiness and joy. Every one seemed to know when Richard entered the door. There was an exclamation of pleasure from them as he spoke and they heard his voice.

"Two blind companions came with him and were greeted cordially, but it was Richard who had gone out into the world and with a faithful little blind wife, whom he had found in this institution, had made a success, and it was to him that they paid their tribute.

"Won't you play for us?" the blind crowd about him as it pressed him to consent.

"Without affectation of manner he laid aside his overcoat and felt his way to the piano. As the slightless audience gathered about him he began the strains of this beautiful composition. When he had finished and the applause and exclamations of delight had ceased, I said to him:

"You and your wife are playing and singing in a moving picture show; you do not play that class of music there, do you?"

"Very modestly he replied: 'We play and sing nothing but the classics. We have been in the one theatre seventeen months and we have never given anything but the very best grade of music.'

"We travel eleven miles every afternoon in the week from our home to this theatre. We began our work there with a definite plan to educate the patrons to love the better class of music. My wife sings. Shortly after we began our engagement one of the most prominent voice teachers in this city heard her and asked permission to give her lessons free. She is now studying with him. I believe we have succeeded in our ambition. We appear to be an attraction at this theatre. I do not believe our audience would permit us to give them the cheap, popular music of the day. The house is always crowded and it holds an unique position among the picture theatres of Chicago.

"He turned upon inquiry that the combined earnings of this blind couple exceed thirty dollars a week.

"His wife was an expert stenographer and typewriter. Before her marriage she held the position of stenographer at this institution and I was informed did as rapid and clean work as any seeing stenographer could do."

MERIT IN MEDICINE.

The continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills and the tremendous volume of letters on file in Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a good, old fashioned remedy and enormous quantities of roots and herbs are used every year in making it the standard remedy for female ills.

AGED "CHILDREN."

Fathers Were in Revolution.

There are still living in New England ten or more persons whose fathers were American soldiers in the Revolutionary war. All of them are over 90 and some over 100 years old. All aged and elderly persons can add greatly to their comfort by keeping their energy and strength up to the highest point through use of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, without oil.

Mrs. A. M. Bassett, 86 years old, of Harrisonburg, Va., says: "I have been using Vinol for the past three years and am now 89 and I feel better than I did at 86. I think Vinol will do all it is recommended to do and that it is all that has kept me alive the past three years. I tried almost every other medicine and found Vinol the best."

Vinol is fine for old people because its immediate effect is to sharpen the appetite and enrich the blood, building up natural strength and energy. We guarantee Vinol to do all this and pay back your money if it does not. Lee P. Alcott, East side square.

GOOD HEALTH

How To Keep It

How To Get It Back

In this column we will discuss Health and Disease and questions of general interest will be answered by responsible members of the regular medical profession. Those not proper for publication will be answered by mail if accompanied by addressed and stamped envelope, provided they do not relate to a disease from which the patient is then suffering. For such diagnosis and advice as to treatment consult your family physician.

CONVULSIONS IN CHILDREN.

People frequently ask the cause of convulsions in children. Convulsions in children may be due to beginning cerebral diseases, to reflex irritation, or may be symptoms of some acute sickness. Meningitis, cerebral hemorrhage, tumors of the brain, abscess of the brain, hydrocephalus, etc., are the most frequent diseases of the brain accompanied by convulsions. Worms, teething, indigestion and severe injuries may be taken as examples of reflex irritation. Pneumonia, measles, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, etc., in children are often ushered in by convulsions. In a child, they have much the same significance as a chill has in an adult.

During a convulsion the child's body becomes rigid and stiff; the hands are clenched; the eyes are fixed or sometimes rolled up; the breathing is shallow and labored; and the face is first pale, later becoming livid and dusky. Convulsive movements and twitching of the face and limbs follow, or unconsciousness and stupor may result. Usually following the convulsions a condition of general relaxation with some evidence of collapse occurs or the child may drop off into a quiet sleep.

Treatment: Always send for medical aid. In the meantime place the child in a warm bath and apply cold to the head, or the child's feet may be simply placed in a warm mustard bath with the body warmly covered. If convulsions reappear, the treatment should be continued.

Sunstroke.

Sunstroke is a condition produced by long exposure to great heat. Two forms are recognized—heatstroke and heat exhaustion. Heatstroke (thermic fever, heat apoplexy) is due to exposure to the direct rays of the sun. Those affected are usually already debilitated or weakened by excessive drinking, though heatstroke may occur in healthy individuals who are compelled to labor hard while exposed to the effects of the sun.

The seizure may come on very suddenly and the man be stricken down and die immediately. More often he experiences a feeling of weakness and dizziness, combined with a sense of oppression. This is soon followed by unconsciousness. The breathing is rapid and labored, the pulse is weak and irregular, and the temperature is extremely high, at times reaching 104 to 105 degrees. It is simply placing the hand upon the man's body one can readily appreciate the high temperature. The pupils in these cases are usually contracted, and convulsions may occur. Should he recover he is more susceptible to a second attack and afterward is unable to stand much exposure to heat without feeling exhausted.

Heat exhaustion is due to hard work and confinement in a close hot atmosphere. The symptoms are those of collapse, the man first complaining of feeling tired and weak. The skin becomes pale and moist, the pulse is rapid and weak, and the temperature is usually subnormal.

The two conditions are easily recognized and should be readily differentiated. In heat stroke there is complete unconsciousness and the body feels as if it were on fire; in heat exhaustion the patient is simply dazed and the skin is pale, cool and moist.

Treatment: In heat stroke the object should be to reduce the temperature as rapidly as possible to the normal. This may be accompanied by the removal of the sufferer to a cool place and the free application of ice to the head and spine. If possible, remove the clothing and place the patient in a cold bath, at the same time rubbing the body briskly to bring the overheated blood to the surface.

In heat exhaustion usually all that is required is rest and the use of stimulants. If the temperature is below normal cover the body warmly with blankets and apply heat to the extremities.
